

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

February 12, 2007

CONTACT:

Jennifer K. Hart
Security Industry Association
703/683-7322
jhart@siaonline.org

A4 Vision Named “Best of Show” SIA New Product Showcase (NPS) Award Winners Announced at ISC-West/Las Vegas 2005

Las Vegas - The Security Industry Association, exclusive sponsor of ISC-West, in conjunction with Reed Exhibitions, is pleased to announce A4 Vision, has taken top honors in the 2005 ISC-West New Product Showcase (NPS) Awards Program held in Las Vegas on Thursday, April 7, 2005.

Eighty-three new products and services were entered into this program, which was established more than a decade ago to identify and showcase innovation in electronic security products and services. The NPS judging took place on Wednesday, April 6, 2005 at the Sands Convention Center. Sixteen judges, representing various segments of the industry, viewed presentations by entrant marketing, sales or technology representatives.

SIA's Executive Director, Richard Chace, and SIA's Vice President, Bill Gorski, Siemens Building Technologies, had the honor of presenting the awards, as SIA NPS Chair Sandra Jones, Sandra Jones & Company, announced each award.

The ISC-West 2005 New Product Showcase winners are:

Achievement Award for Honorable Mention given to Pacom Systems for their RTUSignal.

Product Achievement Award for Access Control given to Software House for their Software House Multi-Technology Reader.

Product Achievement Award for Asset Tracking given to Servision for their IVG-400.

Product Achievement Award for Biometrics given to A4 Vision for their A4 Vision 3D Facial Enrollment Camera.

Product Achievement Award for Business Services given to SDC for their Access System Design & Project Management Website.

Product Achievement Award for CCTV given to ELMO USA for their PTC400C.

Product Achievement Award for Digital Video given to 3VR Security for their 800i.

Product Achievement Award for False Alarm Reduction given to Security Labs for their Security Labs VIR-100.

Product Achievement Award for Fire Detection/Prevention given to UltraGuard for their UltraGuard COSYS1212-4.

Product Achievement Award for Home Automation given to M&S Systems for their DMC3-4.

Product Achievement Award for Integrated Systems given to Hirsch Electronics for their Velocity Interop.

Product Achievement Award for Intrusion Detection/Prevention given to Honeywell for their LXL-1000.

Product Achievement Award for Monitoring given to Digital Security Controls for their TL-250.

Product Achievement Award for Software given to Honeywell for their LobbyWorks.

Product Achievement Award for Wireless given to Cypress Computer Systems for their WiFi Duprex/DPX-7212.

Judges Choice Award for Commercial Products given to i3DVR International for their i3-SRX48032 ARM.

Judges Choice Award for Residential Products given to UltraGuard for their UltraGuard COSYS1212-4.

And the Best-of-Show Award, titled the Innovation Award, given to A4 Vision for their A4 Vision 3D Facial Enrollment Camera.

The Security Industry Association wishes to thank ISC-West/Las Vegas NPS participants for submitting their products. It is with their continued support that valuable programs like NPS continue to flourish and bring positive recognition to the security industry. SIA also would like to recognize the significant contributions of Reed Exhibitions to the NPS program. Through a partnership agreement, Reed is the lead marketing arm for the NPS program.

For more information about SIA's New Product Showcase or to obtain photos of the award-winning products, contact Jennifer Hart, SIA Manager of Marketing and Communications at 703/683-7322 or jhart@siaonline.org.

Make sure to visit all of these fine NPS products at www.sianps.com.

For more than 30 years, the Security Industry Association (SIA), a non-profit international trade association has represented electronic and physical security product manufacturers, specifiers, and service providers. Its role is to promote growth, expansion and professionalism within the security industry by providing education, research, technical standards, representation and defense of its members' interests. SIA is the sole sponsor of the International Security Conference and Exhibition (ISC EXPOs).

- # -