Las Vegas - The Security Industry Association (SIA) is pleased to announce Capture OmniScape has taken top honors in the 2006 New Product Showcase (NPS) program on Thursday, April 6, 2006 in Las Vegas.

Ninety-four new products and services were entered into this program, which was established more than a decade ago to identify and showcase innovation in electronic security products and services. The NPS judging took place on Wednesday, April 5, 2006 at the Sands Convention Center. Eighteen judges, representing various segments of the industry, viewed a daylong series of presentations by the product manufacturers.

SIA President Bill Gorski, Siemens Building Technologies, joined NPS Committee Chair Sandra Jones, Sandra Jones and Co., and SIA Executive Director Richard Chace to present the awards.

SIA would like to thank the generous publication sponsors of the 2006 program: SDM; Security Dealer; Electrical Contractor and Security and Life Safety Systems.
